

Dan Nevarez, Esq., CAWC
Executive Consultant
Los Angeles, CA

Dan joined Heffernan Insurance Brokers in 2016 after spending several years in the Workers' Compensation industry, both as an adjuster and defense attorney for a major carrier. Dan would handle claims and make appearances before the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board of varying complexity which makes him perfectly suited to help clients navigate the complex California Workers' Compensation system.

Dan's unique experience as a former claims adjuster and defense attorney sets him apart in the consulting world. He relies heavily on his first-hand and front-line experience to guide clients through the reality of Workers' Compensation in California. Dan takes a strong approach when dealing with carriers to monitor claims, reserves, and claim handling plans of action. More importantly, he leverages his own relationships and those of the entire Heffernan consulting team with industry carriers to advocate for better service, tighter controls, and overall better outcomes for his clients. On top of claim specific consulting, Dan is available to provide answers and training to clients on a number of Workers' Compensation claims management issues and concerns.

Dan received his law degree from The University of Notre Dame Law School and his bachelor's degree in Political Science from Chapman University. Dan is licensed to practice law in the state of California and all United States District Courts of California. He has also earned industry designation as a Certified Authority on Workers' Compensation (CAWC). He is an avid runner and sports enthusiast and currently resides in Pasadena, CA with his wife and two sons.
