HOW IT WORKS

Most workplace injuries don't require expensive trips to the ER—about 38% of calls handled by CarivaCare don't turn into workers' compensation claims. When an injury happens, employees can quickly connect with our 24/7 Workplace Injury Reporting & Nurse Triage Line, where our specialists gather a full incident report, including injury details and medical history. Using our Name Your Pain™ scale and a precise medical algorithm, we determine the appropriate next steps. After the initial call, the employee is treated, and stakeholders are informed. CarivaCare simplifies the often-complicated process of submitting a workplace injury claim by reducing delays and providing a CareReport that includes all the essential information for claims, as well as meeting state and OSHA reporting requirements. We're here to support you throughout the entire process.

PROGRAM WORKFLOW

ENHANCE YOUR PROGRAM

The initial call is completed, your employee is appropriately treated, and your company stakeholders are notified of the injury and results.

CarivaCare cuts through the confusion and can help you move along the workers' compensation process.
